The next webinar with Edward 'Obbie West' Wilson will begin shortly. If you have a question for him, please leave it here. It will try to be asked during the livestream or maybe it will be used in a follow-on video.

1SG, check your frame (the video square). There's probably an icon of a speaker, 4th from the right, that has a little X through it. That's a second mute you have to uncheck (not just your computer speakers).

I have also said that as a leader when you walk by something that is wrong or do not act when you see something wrong or hear something wrong you just established a new way forward or a new standard.....and you did not have to say anything for that to occur.

Sir,

- 1) give an example of "Mansplaining" in a military setting
- 2) give some pointers

Yes!! Leading indicators over lagging indicators. Make high numbers of incidents reported a GOOD thing. Encourage reports! That’s how my company handles safety. The goal is to get high numbers of “near miss” reports so that issues are corrected before they lead to injuries. Same thing can work for sexual harassment, I think.

The OBBie West LPD has been the best ever. I wished we had more time with him as well as a one on one.
